

Press release 26 September 2022

PION Group is holding a capital market day on October 25

PION Group invites investors, analysts and media to Capital Markets Day on Tuesday 25 October 2022.

PION Group, the new ownership company behind Poolia, Uniflex and QRIOS, which focuses on human competence and HR-tech solutions that enhance, streamline and develop in order to meet the needs of the increasingly digital labor market, invites investors, analysts and media to a capital market day on October 25.

During the day, several key people within PION Group, such as chairman of the board Lars Kry and CEO Jan Bengtsson, will present the company with a focus on the new structure, the company's financial goals and the strategy going forward. PION Group will also share insights from a new report presented together with Kairos Future and offer a panel discussion with experts in the field.

Capital Markets Day is held in Stockholm and it will also be possible to follow the event digitally. Please report physical participation to the company's investor relations no later than Friday, October 21, 2022. We will return with more details about the event shortly.

For questions and to register for the event, please contact:Alexandra Barganowski, Investor Relations
